He need not be wealthy but must be a good business man, progressive and thor nighly alive to his possibilities,

She did not wait long for the answers came thick and fast. Men from the eactus plains of Old Mexico, from the Mariposa forests of California, from the southern states, from the miners in the Rockies, from young business men in cities throughout the middle west and one from Boston. The answers came from very section and every one said that they were progressive and industrious,

Miss Green picked out those whose letters sounded best to her. She is a good judge of men as they can be judged through letter writing, and answered a few of the letters. This brought an exchange of pictures, even then Miss Green could not make her choice. About the next thing that happened was a letter start west immediately. He did so and reached this city just a week ago. He went to Miss Green's home and pressed his suit. He is a prepossessing young man and brought plenty of proof that he was energetic and reliable and had a good business in Boston. The executive committee of the interurban railway directors met yesterday afternoon and listened to reports of the solicitors who have been securing signers to petitions to call an election to vote bonds for the road. At the next council meeting the petitions will be presented to the council and the mayor and counc will be asked to call the election for the third Tuesday in September. At th same time the county commistownship at the same time. The solicitors have secured plenty of names in Salem township to call the election.

The executive committee have decided to offer a prize of $5.00 for a name for the company's new springs near those of Genda Springs. The company have pur chased a considerable quantity of land currounding these springs and will establish a summer resort near them. These springs are about three miles west of Geuda Springs and are said to be of the same properties. Today workmen will go to the new springs to clean them up and test the water and get everything in readiness to open them next spring. The company wants a suitable name for the one will be handed a $5 bill. The executive committee are to be the judges who wish to enter the contest should send their suggestions to Mr. Poyle.
